What can a bilingual teacher do when s/he notices that students look bored during read aloud? If they are in grades 2 or above, whip out Cuentos de la selva, a collection of stories about animals in the jungles of South America. Start with "El loro pelado". That will captivate them completely. After that, they will enjoy all other stories. Any student with a 5th grade reading level can read and enjoy the stories independently. I would like to thank .com for finding this book for me. I tried several other publishers, and they were unable to find me this gem.

The short stories by Horacio Quiroga have had a deep impact on me as I was a kid. The stories are engaging, sharp and crude. It is always a joy to re read them. BEWARE: This edition is NOT the original one titled "Cuentos de la Selva", which has 8 great magical stories that can be enjoyed by children and adults alike. The original one has the following stories: LA TORTUGA GIGANTE, LAS MEDIAS DE LOS FLAMENCOS, EL LORO PELADO, LA GUERRA DE LOS YACARES, LA GAMA CIEGA, HISTORIA DE DOS CACHORROS DE COATÃ• Y DOS CACHORROS DE HOMBRE, EL PASO DE YABEBIRÃ• and LA ABEJA HARAGANA. The edition that is sold here in edited by Diferencias has only 3 of these stories, and then some of stories from CUENTOS DE AMOR, LOCURA Y MUERTE, also a great collection of short stories however not very appropriate for young children. Also you may want to search on the internet (portalcoquimbo.cl) and download the text as it has fallen into the public domain already.

Excelente, lo lei cuando nina, en Chile. Es un libro que transporta, que hace sonar. Personifica animales, les da vida... es muy lindo.

It's a must read for people interested in latin american folklore, mythology and man's battle with nature.

I speak Spanish fairly fluently as a second language, but trying to read in Spanish can be so tiresome sometimes. This collection of short stories is easy reading yet interesting enough to keep me turning the page. Makes it much easier to find motivation to read in Spanish, something I need to do to keep from getting rusty!
